Subject: FW: waste water discharge licence applications

Dear Mr Boyle,

Following from my earlier email below, in order to avoid repetition could you please ask the NPWS whether or not an appropriate assessment is required in the case of each of your 6 waste water discharge licence applications listed below.

It does not appear that all of these waste water treatment plants discharge into an SAC - you might confirm with the NPWS which plants do so.

Reg. No.	Name
D0138-01	Meath County Council - Dunshaughlin
D0131-01	Meath County Council - Enfield
D0133-01	Meath County Council - Duleek
D0137-01	Meath County Council - Trim
D0127-01	Meath County Council - Kells
D0124-01	Meath County Council - Athboy

All applications are available to view at <http://www.epa.ie/terminalfour/wwda2/index.jsp>

If you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,
 Loretta.

Dear Mr Boyle,

I am examining the licence application received for the Dunshaughlin agglomeration (Castletown Tara waste water treatment plant), Reg. No. D0138-01.

The River Boyne is an SAC and the 1997 EIS which I received in the application does not appear to refer to the SAC.

I have noted the response from the NPWS regarding appropriate assessment contained in your application.

Could you please ask the NPWS whether or not an appropriate assessment is required in this case as this has not been clarified in their response.

A yes/no answer in a written format would suffice.

If you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Regards,
 Loretta.
