General Background

Business Activity	Enva Ireland Ltd. is one of the largest hazardous waste management companies operating in Ireland from three existing Industrial Emissions licenced facilities (Portlaoise, Cork & Dublin) in addition to the subject facility in Shannon. Enva can trace its origins back to the early 1970's when the business started by collecting waste oil for use as a fuel to heat glasshouses and traded until 2006 under the Atlas Oil brand. Enva currently provide hazardous waste services across the 32 counties in Ireland with Northern Ireland serviced by a sister company Enva (Northern Ireland) Ltd.

Environmental Protection Agency Act 1992 as amended?	Yes
Provide full details	In December 2015 in Portlaoise District Court, Enva Ireland Ltd pleaded guilty to 4 counts of a failure to comply with Condition 7.2 of IED Licence W0184-01 which condition requires that odours do not give rise to nuisance in the immediate area of its Portlaoise facility (which processes waste oil). Enva was fined a total of €8,000 and agreed to pay the Agency's costs. This was Enva 's first offence. In response to the odour issue, Enva has implemented a wide range of odour mitigation measures at the facility to ensure that there are no further nuisance odours arising from site activities. Since January, RPS Consulting Engineers have been engaged to assist in odour management at the facility and also conduct independent odour surveys of the local area. To date RPS have not detected any nuisance odours in the local area that are attributable to Enva's activities.

Data Protection

ACE European Group Limited and its group companies ('ACE') will use the information supplied during the formation and performance of this Policy for policy administration, customer services, the payment of claims and the production of management information for business analysis. We will keep this information for a reasonable period.

Where sensitive personal data has been disclosed, including any medical or criminal record information, ACE will also use this information for these purposes. ACE are entitled to ask about criminal convictions in relation to insurance risks. There is no obligation to provide ACE with details of any convictions which are spent under the terms of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974. ACE may also transfer certain information to countries that do not provide the same level of data protection as the UK for the above purposes. A contract will be in place to ensure the information transferred is protected.

ACE may record telephone calls for quality control, fraud prevention and staff training purposes.

When personal or sensitive data is supplied to ACE about third parties other than the Insured, both during the formation and performance of this policy, ACE assumes that those third parties consent to the supply of this information to ACE, to ACE processing this data, including sensitive personal data, and to the transfer of their information abroad. ACE will also assume that the supplier of the information is authorised to receive, on their behalf, any data protection notices.

ACE may share personal and sensitive personal information with the following organisations for the purposes described above:

- our connected companies, service providers, agents and subcontractors including loss adjusters and claims investigators;
- our reinsurers who use this information to assess the terms of specific policies and to administer our insurance policies generally;
- other insurance companies about other insurance policies you may have;
- the police, other insurance companies, fraud reference agencies and other representative bodies in relation to the prevention and detection of fraudulent claims or as part of our money laundering checks.

We work with the police, other insurance companies, fraud reference and detection agencies and other representative bodies to prevent and detect fraudulent or exaggerated claims. As part of this we will share information about your claims with providers of software designed to assist in the detection of fraudulent claims. We may also use commercially available databases to prevent money laundering.

Other companies may contact these bodies for information to help them make decisions about insurance or similar services they provide to you.

Individuals whose information has been supplied to ACE are entitled to a copy of that information on payment of a fee and to have any inaccuracies corrected. Such information is available by contacting the Data Protection Officer at 100, Leadenhall Street, London EC3A 3BP.

We do not use personal information for marketing purposes, nor do we share it with any other company for marketing purposes, unless consent to do so has been received in writing from you.
