Climate Change Conference 2010

Aviva Stadium
Lansdowne Road
30 June 2010

The EPA 2010 Climate Change Conference will provide a unique perspective on key developments in climate science and policy. It will provide a forum to explore a range of challenges including: communication of science process and understanding, as well as informing the public, policymakers and enterprise in relation to the likely actions and opportunities.

The conference will also show-case research funded by the EPA and from the broader Climate Change Research programme established under the Strategy for Science, Technology and Innovation, SSTI.

The event is expected to attract a broad spectrum of participants, including policy makers, scientists and practitioners and the business community.

Speakers

John Gormley, TD, Minister for Environment
Speaker, EU Commission (TBC)
Mary Kelly, Director General of EPA
Ray Bates, Climate Adviser Office of Chief Scientist
Olive Heffernan, Climate Editor, Nature
Andrea Pinna, European Investment Bank

The conference is free but numbers are limited.
Pre-registration is required in order to secure a place.
