We are delighted to invite you to join us at the 2023 Forum on Food Waste, taking place virtually on Thursday 9th November at 9:30am – 1:00pm.

This year's theme is Countdown to 2030: Together against Food Waste, which will feature in a range of case studies, presentations and interactive panels from guest speakers and businesses who are actively involved in food waste prevention and measurement. The event will be streamed live from a studio and hosted by Suzanne Campbell, Writer and broadcaster on food and farming.

The 2023 agenda aims to emphasize the importance of measuring food waste, improved data, and indicators for gaining insights and identifying opportunities for targeted waste reduction across the supply chain.

Why should you attend?

Be informed on the latest food waste prevention activities from guest speakers across policy and business.

Hear perspectives and join the discussion with representatives from five State Agencies currently supporting the Food Waste Charter - Bord Bia, BIM, Enterprise Ireland, Fáilte Ireland and Teagasc will explain what they are doing to help businesses reduce food waste.

Share the experience of some Food Waste Charter members from bakery, prepared foods, and retail sectors on the reality of measuring, setting a target-based action plan and reducing food waste in a business.

Contribute to the conversation on how reporting on food waste prevention can support disclosure under the Corporate Sustainability Reporting (CSR) Directive and get an update on the progress of implementing the National Food Waste Prevention Roadmap.

Event registration is free of charge and open to all those involved in the food supply chain network, policy making, or new businesses interested in accessing a valuable network for information exchange on food waste prevention and reduction activities.
