The role and how to apply:

Overview of the Role:

This is an exciting opportunity to join the EPA's Climate Adaptation and Behavioural Insights Team in the position of Scientific Officer I (Level 3) Climate Adaptation Scientist. The successful candidate will provide expertise, analysis and insight on climate change risk, adaptation and resilience in Ireland. The person will have a management role and be a valued member of a multidisciplinary team of technical experts in the areas of climate change impacts, risk and adaptation, and resilience planning and monitoring. A panel will be created from this competition, from which future Scientific Officer I (Level 3) Climate Adaptation Scientist vacancies in the EPA or the Secretariat to the Climate Change Advisory Council (CCAC) may be filled, in the EPA Regional Inspectorate in Dublin or Cork or EPA Headquarters in Wexford.

The EPA plays a key role in adaptation governance and implementation structures by delivering climate services, climate risk assessment, and providing and supporting adaptation evidence and knowledge. The Climate Adaptation and Behavioural Insights Team is part of the EPA's Research & Evidence Programme within the Office of Evidence and Assessment.

The EPA published the first National Climate Change Risk Assessment (NCCRA) in 2025 with the aim of providing government, business, communities and other stakeholders with the best available evidence and analysis to inform climate adaptation and resilience in Ireland at a national level. The Secretariat to the Climate Change Advisory Council supports the work of the Council across a range of its statutory functions. This includes providing independent advice based on scientific evidence to Government in regard to carbon budgets and climate change mitigation and adaptation across all relevant sectors of the economy. Successful candidates appointed to the Secretariat would focus specifically on the gathering of evidence from literature, publicly available data and reports, and directly procured research relating to climate resilience and biodiversity, and presenting this to the Council (and its Adaptation Committee) for use in its reviews and other communications.

Applicants must ensure they retain a copy of the email submitted including the date and time in case of any queries.

An acknowledgement email will generally be issued in respect of all applications received (simply acknowledging receipt and it will not confirm eligibility or otherwise). Candidates who do not attend for interview when and where required, will have no claim for further consideration and their candidature will be deemed to be withdrawn.

The EPA will not be responsible for any expenses, including travelling expenses, candidates may incur in connection with this competition.

Candidates must produce satisfactory documentary evidence of all qualifications and visa (if applicable) claimed by them, on request. Failure to produce such documentary evidence when requested may lead to disqualification from the competition and/or termination of contract. Therefore, it is advised that you have this documentation available to you when making your application.

Should the person recommended for appointment decline, or having accepted it, relinquish it, the EPA may, at its discretion, select and recommend another person for appointment on the results of this selection process.

Shortlisting

Normally the number of applicants exceeds the numbers required to fill existing and future vacancies to that position. This means that while you may meet the eligibility requirements of the competition, if the numbers applying are such that it would not be practical to interview everyone, the EPA may decide to invite a smaller number to interview. The EPA will conduct a shortlisting process to select a group that based upon examination of the application forms, appear to be the most suitable for the role. This is not to suggest that other candidates are necessarily unsuitable, or incapable of undertaking the job, rather that there are some candidates who are, prima facie, better qualified and/or have more relevant experience.

An expert board will examine the application forms against pre-determined criteria based on the requirements of the position. It is therefore in your own interest to provide a detailed and accurate account of your qualifications/ experience in your application and to fully demonstrate your ability to carry out the role outlined.

Interviews

A competency interview will be the final stage of the selection process. An Interview Board will be appointed by the EPA to conduct the interviews. The interview will be based upon the EPA core competencies and the technical requirements for the role. Candidates invited for interview should familiarise themselves with the EPA competency framework for the Level 3. A description of the competencies is set out in Appendix A.

Appointment from Panel

Through this competition, the EPA will establish a panel of the successful candidates in order of merit. The panel will expire after a set period from its establishment (usually twelve months), or when it has been exhausted, whichever is sooner. Qualification and placement on a panel is not a guarantee of appointment to a position. Candidates not placed at the expiry of the panel will have no claim to a position thereafter because of having been on the panel.

References

Prior to confirming an appointment, the EPA will make all such enquires deemed necessary, to determine the suitability of the candidate. The EPA will only contact the referees provided in your application should you come under consideration after the interview stage. Please note, should you be successful at final interview, we will require a reference from your current employer prior to confirming appointment. Successful candidates will be required to

Candidates in the recruitment process must not:

- record the interview or any feedback conversations.

Candidates who are found in breach of any of the above, will be disqualified from the campaign and any offer of employment may be revoked/terminated.

It is important to remember that this is a competitive process for a role where integrity is paramount. Sharing information on the selection process e.g. through social media or any other means, may result in you being disqualified from the competition.

Feedback

Feedback in relation to the selection process is available on request.

Canvassing

Canvassing is prohibited and will result in disqualification from the competition.

Candidate review procedures in respect of the selection process

A request for review may be made by a candidate against a decision of the Agency. The review process is split into informal and formal stages. All requests for a review will be addressed using the informal process in the first instance. If, following the informal process, a candidate is subsequently not satisfied with the outcome, they can request a formal review process.

Informal Review

A request for an informal review at shortlisting stage in the process must be made within two days of notification of the decision. This request must be submitted by email to recruitment@epa.ie. On receipt of a request, an informal reviewer will be appointed. The role of the informal reviewer is to determine whether, in their opinion, the original decision was made appropriately, on the basis of the correct information and in line with documented procedure.

On foot of a preliminary examination of the available evidence the reviewer will establish whether, in their opinion, the original decision should be upheld.

As per best practice, the role of the informal reviewer is not to reassess or remark the candidate, but rather to establish, on foot of the available information, whether they consider:

- The procedures set out for the selection process were followed correctly
- The original decision was made on the basis of correct and full information
- The original decision was made appropriately.

If the candidate is not satisfied with the outcome of the informal process, they can request a formal review. The candidate must invoke the formal process within two working days of the notification of the outcome of the informal process.

Formal Review of the Selection Process

A request for a formal review must be submitted by email to recruitment@epa.ie. When making a request for a formal review, a candidate must support their request by outlining the facts they believe show that the action taken, or decision reached was wrong. A request for review may be refused if the candidate cannot support their request.

The HR unit will appoint two formal reviewers. These will be independent people who have an understanding of the recruitment and selection process. The formal review will be a more thorough examination of all relevant available information.

Following an examination of all relevant information the reviewers will issue a decision on the formal review. The reviewers will decide if the original decision was made on the basis of correct information and if documented procedure was followed. The outcome will be notified to the candidate within ten working days or within 5 days where the decision relates to a shortlisting decision.

As per best practice, the role of the informal reviewer is not to reassess or remark the candidate. The role of the reviewer is to establish, on foot of the available information, whether he/she considers:

- The procedures set out for the selection process were followed correctly
- The original decision was made on the basis of correct and full information
- The original decision was made appropriately.
